

OER-CODEX Project | Final Conference

14 January 2025 | Piran, Slovenia & Online

Dear Partner, dear Colleague,

We are delighted to invite you to the OER-CODEX Final Conference, which will take place on January 14, 2025, in Piran, Slovenia, and online. Hosted by EMUNI University, this event will showcase the outcomes of the OER-CODEX project, focusing on the development and sustainability of Open Educational Resources (OER) as a vital component of the Open Science movement and the role of OERs in enhancing Virtual Collaborative Learning (VCL).

The conference will provide a valuable opportunity to connect with professionals, explore the project's achievements, and engage in discussions about the future of OER in collaborative educational environments.

Please register for the Final Conference on January 14 here. You may join us In person or Online.

We look forward to your participation!
