Save BBB recording on your own device

The BigBlueButton (BBB) video conferencing tool allows you to record video conferences, which are stored on the BigBlueButton server, but it does not have a function to save the recording on your local computer. You can save the recording using screen recording software.

The Free Cam tool allows you to record screen images and sound in wmv format without ads, time limits, or watermarks (note: the paid version of this program allows you to save recordings in mp4 format, which is up to 10 times smaller than wmv format files).
